PROGRAMME AT CATHEDRAL

Announcement of Services for the Week and Also for Easter Sunday.

floly week, to the Catholic and the Episcopallans, the most solemn period of he church year, begins to-day with Palm Sunday. One week hence the gloriouh festival of Easter will end the penitentinl season and will waken the silent churches to burst ofs praise and song. Beautiful flowers of the new-born spring will mingle their fragrance with the glory of the music, and all will be joy and Between now and then the most solemn and impressive services on the church calender, will be rendered. This is more particularly true of the Catholics who will render a detailed and claborate programme during the days of the Hilly Week. To-day these will be the usual Palm Sanday services at all of the churches, including the long gospel, through which the congregations stand. The Palms will be bleased and distributed among the faithful.

HOLY WEEK AT THE CATHEDRAL. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the services at St. Peter's, will begin at 8 A. M. On Thursday morning will take place the blessing of the holy oils, to be used for sacramental purposes auring the year. Most of the dlocssar priests will be present. The celebrat will be the Rt. Rev. Bishop Van De Vyyer, assistent to the bishop, Very Rev. J. J. Bowler, deacon of the mass, Rev. Cyril De and impressive services on the church will be present. The celebratat will be the Rt. Rev. Bishop Van De Vyver, assistent to the bishop. Very Rev. J. J. Bowler, deacon of the mass, Rev. Cyril De Muyrick, of the Cathedral; subdeacon, Rev. William O'Hara, of Keyser, W. Va.; master of ceremonies, Rev. T. E. Waters, of Manchester.

One of the most intersting services will occur on Good Friday morning. It is known as the mass of the presanctified, during which the pussion of Christ will he chanted by three priests. One with a Geep, solemn voice, will sing the words uttered by Christ during 'His passion. The second. a high baritone, will chant the narrative. The third, a ternor, will take the part of the rabble. The three priests, who took the successive parts in previous years, were respectively Rev. Jedward Tearney, of Falls Church; Rev. C. E. Donalnoe, of Martinsburg, and Rev. Joseph Magri, of this city. It is likely that the same priests will do the chanting this year. The celebrant will probably be the Very Rev. J. J. Bowler.

On Holy Saturday morning will occur the blessing of the Paschal candle and the baptismal water to be used during the coming year. The celebrant of the mass will be the Rev. Cyril De Maynek, of the Cathedral.

the comins mass will be the Rev. Cyrn and the Cathedral.

The above programme refers exclusively to the morning services at 8 o'clock. On Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock will take place the tenebrae, repo'clock will take place the tenebrae, repo'clock will take place the tenebrae. The above programme reiers excusives. In the morning services at 8 o'clock. On Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock will take place the tenebrae, representing the darkness that came upon earth whilst Christ, the Light of the World, reposed in the tomb. Psalms will be chanted by the men, under the leadership of Mr. Lemuel Lynch, and the boys, under the direction of Brother Marcellus, which have reference to the passion of Christ. Fourteen candles, typifying fourteen prophets, who prefigured or wrote of the Saviour, will be successively extinguished, the act of extinguishing representing their death. A fifteenth candle, a figure of the Redeemer, will be hid for a time behind the altar, this being a symbol of Christ's burial. The altar is then supposed to be in darkness—hence the name tenebrae, meaning darkness. The light soon, however, reappears, typical of the resurrection.

The psalm "Benedictine" will be harmonized by a quartette of priests during the tenbrae of Thursday night. Three of the priests will likewise chant one of the lessons from Jorenniah. A sermon on the Blessed Sacrament will be preached by one of the visiting priests, for it was on Holy Thursday night that the Saviour instituted the Holy Eucharist.

A second rendition of the tenebrae, with different psalms, will, be had on Good Friday night. During this service the stations of the cross will take place, and likewise at 3 o'clock on Friday, the hour when the Redeemer died. The services during Holy Week are always attended by large crowds.

ANNEXATION.

What a Prominent County Man

Thinks of It.

Editor of The Times-Dispatch:

Sir.—I am in receipt of your letter of the 8th instant, in which you ask "Are you in favor of annexing suburban districts, and, if so, when do you think the movement ought to begin?"

In reply to the first part of your question, will say, that I have never been apposed to city extension, within meason, and upon fair terms. The Anderson bill as finally amended and passed, I regard and upon fair terms. The Anderson bill as finally amended and passed, I regard as fair, and under its provisions I believe the interests of all parties are properly guarded. This being the case, the only thing necessary to determine when "the movement ought to begin." Is the question of the annexing city's ability to provide for the new territory. If the city is able to provide for the new territory under the terms of the bill, the sconer the annexation, the better for all parties concerned. The sconer the city will begin to receive an increased revenue, begin to receive an increased revenue, the sooner the annexed territory will be the sooner the annexed territory will be benefited by city improvements, and the scener will the sections adjacent to the amexed territory enhance in taxable value and restore the revenue of the county from which the annexation is made. Here I wish to emphasize the fact that nothing can pay a city better than te take the initiative and improve its retrieve, coung if necessary, beyond the territory, going, if necessary, beyond the compulsory requirements of legislation When improvements, such as gas, wa When improvements, such as gas, water, culverts and sidewalks, are made, houses will be built, creating new values for taxation, to say nothing of the increase in the value of the land itself. Without such improvements, desirable buildings will not be erected. No better illustration of this can be found than in the history of Lee District.

Let the cities extend, encourage enterprise by fair treatment to capital, adont plans for general improvement, adopt plans for general improvement, rising above the petty jealousies and advantages of ward politics, having an eye single to the welfare of each municipality as a whole.

be displayed from now on by the candidates, though the life and vigor will not equal that which characterized city contests prior to the passage of the Barksdale pure elections law.

The matter of fixing the details of the plan is in the hands of the Committee on Plans, which is composed of Messrs. Clyde W. Saunders, chairman; Robert E. Peyton, Jr., P. Kemper Rector, John R. Leaman, James E. McKenney, John R. Leaman, James E. McKenney, John B. Welsh and C. Manning, Jr. They will hold a meeting shortly, and will likely be able to report a plan for adoption at the next general meeting of the committee. There is much talk of having the delegates to the State convention chosen along with the Mayor and councilmen, and while the suggestion meets with favor, there will be no definite action on this line until the State Committee shall have fixed a date for the State convention.

There is no excitement concerning the city cumpaign, but there is a strong undercurrent of public interest, both as to Mayor and councilmen. It is believed that there will be but two candidates for Mayor, and that the race will be run out between Messrs. Taylor and Gordon. The salary of Captain McCarthy is now $100 per year in excess of that of the Mayor, and it is not thought he will run.

House to-day began consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. Ten hours was fixed for general debate on the measure, but at the end of an hour and a half there were no speakers ready to continue, and the House adjourned for lack of talk-

In his statement on the bill, Chairman Hemenway, of the Appropriations Committee, and Mr. Benton, a Democratic member, filed statements on the bill. Mr. Hemenway summed up the fiscal condi-tion for the next fiscal year, showing that after all legitimate expenses had been paid there would be $22,000,000 surplus for paid there to be the year.

Mr. Benton complimented the Republicans on the bill, saying that it was altogether the best Republican bill he had seen come from the committee in years, it however, did not meet with his approval, from a Democratic standpoint, Mr. Hemenway estimated the annual expenditures for 1966 to be $597,802,324; to this sum must be added the interest on the public debt, estimated at $44,971,820.
The revenues for the year, he said, are estimated at $704,472,680. The total estimates of the departments for the expense of the government for 1905 aggregate $747,317,922, or an excess of $42,845,852 over the revenues.

By scaling down the estimates and omitting to pass river and harbor and public huildings appropriation bills the expenditures have been reduced $22,000,000 less than the estimated revenues.

Mr. Pou (North Carolina) reviewed the failure of Congress to enact legislation to correct specified evils, particularly the trusts. He referred to President Roosevelt's attitude on trusts before and after his election as President. Mr. Pou minimized the value of the Northern Securities decision, because, he said, it did nothing to prevent the two reliroads from co-operating and charging their own rates for passengers or freight. He said the feeling that the ascension of Roosevelt to the presidency would result in changing the Republican party from a servant to the oppressor of trusts had proved a fallacy, and that the party was still dependent upon monopolies and the money they pour into its campaign funds.

MORALIST PRESIDENT.

"The Republican party," he said, "in a few short months will be begging money for the election of your strenuous moralist candidate, who, when Governor of New York, was denouncing the corporations to which he is now looking for support."

Liberal laws on immigration were deplored by Mr. Pou, who said that a broken pledge of the Republican party for an abatement of the Influx of foreigners would be called to the attention of the party in the next campaign. The party in power, he asserted, had broken also its promises for the building up of the merchant marine and for the ratification of reciprocity treaties, which were sent to the Senate during President McKinley's administration. The record of the party during the last two Congresses, he said, is one of broken pledges.

No member was ready to proceed, and Mr. Thomas (Georgia) protested against taking action on so important a measure with only a limited number present. Continuation of the bill was suspended and the House adjourned. Liberal laws on immigration were
